Dear Colleagues,

Throughout the United States, Hispanic Heritage Month is celebrated from September 15 – October 15. This celebration pays tribute to the generations of Hispanic Americans who have enriched our nation and society, and whose achievements and success have inspired many others to achieve success. Today I am writing to share information with you about some of the ways that Citrus College is celebrating Hispanic Heritage Month, and I encourage you to participate in upcoming campus events and activities.

Student life and leadership development is hosting a Hispanic Heritage Month-themed virtual game day on Monday, October 4, at 2 p.m. All students and employees are welcome to join, and you can sign up online. In addition, Student life and leadership development encourages everyone to share their favorite Latin American dish on Instagram – be sure to tag @citrusstudentlife!

The Hayden Memorial Library has highlighted several online resources that celebrate the lives, stories and achievements of Hispanic and Latinx individuals online at <https://libguides.citruscollege.edu/hhm>.

You may have noticed recently that the college's main social media accounts are recognizing colleagues and students who are sharing what Hispanic Heritage Month means to them. My thanks to those of you who have participated, and please reach out to the communications and external relations team if you are interested in being featured.

Finally, under the direction of music instructor and Academic Senate President Gino Munoz, music instructor Alan Waddington and music instructor Ken Edwards, our student groups Night Shift and Blue Note Orchestra have planned special outdoor performances that include music by Hispanic composers. Please join me on Monday, October 11, at 1 p.m. in the Campus Center Mall for these special, socially distanced performances.

These many wonderful things happening both on campus and online are possible thanks to the dedication of our faculty, staff and students. I've said it before, but I feel fortunate to call Citrus College my "home away from home" because of all of you, and I look forward to many more celebrations in the months and years ahead!

Sincerely,

Dr. Greg Schulz
